IQMS Gains Over 26 Percent in Revenue Growth

Recently Named a 'Hot' Company by START-IT Magazine, IQMS Boasts More than 500 Installations and 11,000 Users Worldwide and Growing

Paso Robles, California, September 6, 2006 – IQMS, a leader in the design and development of Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) software, has gained over 26 percent in revenue growth since this time last year. IQMS was recently named as one of the “Hottest Companies” of 2006 by START-IT magazine for its dedicated and progressive approach to providing innovative technology solutions that help manufacturers stay lean, agile and competitive in today’s global economy. With more than 500 installations and 11,000 users worldwide and growing, IQMS continues to demonstrate its edge as a preferred, single-source ERP solutions provider.

“At IQMS, we form partnerships with our customers based on trust, support and bottom-line, measurable results,” says Randy Flamm, company president and founder. “Every aspect of our business, from product development and support to implementation and training, is handled by IQMS employees, not third party providers. It is this success-driven approach that keeps our customers loyal and our growth rate in double digits year after year.”

Consistent growth and high levels of customer retention are key indicators of the value IQMS delivers with its EnterpriseIQ ERP software solution. EnterpriseIQ goes beyond traditional ERP software systems by providing a real-time foundation for collaborative and ebusiness environments. Customers who use EnterpriseIQ have achieved extraordinary results such as 50 percent improvement in product availability, 95 percent savings in expedited freight costs, and a 75 percent reduction in month-end close time. With EnterpriseIQ, companies can better manage lean operations, and support growth and data integrity – all with a single, powerful, cohesive solution – which is why IQMS is on the leading edge of demand among manufacturers.

“Manufacturers need accurate information in a timely fashion and those named as ‘Hot’ are at the top of their game in providing the information technology to accomplish it,” says Peggy Smedley, editorial director of START-IT.
